Biography: Born in St. John's, Newfoundland, Dominic. A. Hiscock had a rough upcoming. Soaring through the life of school work and inner problems as a young child, Dominic found solitude in reading and writing. After writing for years on his own (using journals and various self projects) he is now putting himself out there to become the writer he is meant to be. "Putting the pencil to the page and playing with words is like music." ~ D.A.H
