

Heather Nolan

Pronouns: she/her

Email address: heatherlnolan@gmail.com

Website: www.heathernolan.ca

Region: Avalon

Willing to Travel: Yes

Available For:

- Manuscript Evaluations
- Mentorship
- Prize Adjudication
- Editing/Proofreading
- Readings
- Book Reviews
- Copywriting
- Workshop Facilitation
- School Visits
- Speaking Engagements
- Interviewing
- Photography

Biography: Heather Nolan is a neurodiverse writer from St. John's, NL. She is the author of This Is Agatha Falling (Pedlar Press, 2019), which was longlisted for the BMO Winterset Award and the ReLit Award. She has published poetry and prose across Canada, the US, and the UK. She was the winner of the Gregory J. Power Poetry Award, and was longlisted for the CBC Poetry Prize. Her debut poetry collection Land of the Rock: Talamh an Carraig is forthcoming from Breakwater Books in March 2022.

Selected Publications:

Land of the Rock: Talamh an Carraig (Breakwater Books 2022)

This is Agatha Falling (Pedlar Press 2019) "Against Hostile Elements." WORD. 26(3). July 2015.

Selected Awards:

Shortlisted for ReLit Award

Longlisted for BMO Winterset Award

Winner of Gregory J. Power Poetry Prize

Longlisted for CBC Poetry Prize