

Trudy Morgan-Cole

Pronouns: she/her

Email address: trudyj65@hotmail.com,

Website: www.trudymorgancole.com

Region: Avalon Pensinsula

Willing to Travel: Yes

Available For:

Manuscript Evaluations

Mentorship

Prize Adjudication

Editing/Proofreading

Readings

Book Reviews

Copywriting

Blog Writing

Ghost Writing

Workshop Facilitation

School Visits

Speaking Engagements

Interviewing

Biography:

Trudy Morgan-Cole is a novelist living in St. John's. She writes mostly historical fiction, with a focus on Newfoundland history and women's experiences. Outside of her writing life, she has spent over 25 years as a teacher in high school and adult-education settings.

Selected Publications:

Novels (all from Breakwater Books): By the Rivers of Brooklyn, That Forgetful Shore, A Sudden Sun, Most Anything You Please, A Roll of the Bones, Such Miracles and Mischiefs, and A Company of Rogues (coming fall 2023).

Play: The Mirror, produced by Persistence Theatre Company, October 2021.

Selected Awards:

NL Reads 2019 winner, Most Anything You Please

2016 NL History and Heritage award shortlist, A Sudden Sun

2012 NL History and Heritage award winner, That Forgetful Shore